

Cory Bank, Ph.D.

Psychotherapist | Peak Performance Coach | Certified School Psychologist |
Professor Psychology at Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine

Dr. Bank is a Certified School Psychologist, a Psychotherapist, and a Peak Performance Coach. Dr. Bank specializes in individual therapy and peak performance coaching with children, adolescents, and adults including sports psychology, peak performance achievement, time management skills, adjustment issues, relationship issues, school issues, and stress management.

Dr. Bank has studied human behavior for over the past 20 years and seeks to focus on each person's strengths and needs in order to assist each individual to reach their fullest potential. He is also a Professor of Psychology at Philadelphia College of Osteopathic Medicine in the Graduate Program of Psychology. Dr. Bank has completed the Ironman USA Triathlon and multiple marathons. He has been featured on NBC, CN8, WIP AM, WWDB AM, USA Today, and The Philadelphia Inquirer.